Interview with Attiya Khan

WWP EN had the chance to interview co-director and protagonist of the documentary "A Better Man" Attiya Khan.

"On a hot summer night 22 years ago, 18-year-old Attiya Khan ran through the streets, frightened for her life. She was fleeing her ex-boyfriend Steve, who'd been abusing her on a daily basis.

Now, all these years later, Attiya has asked Steve to meet. She wants to know how he remembers their relationship and if he is willing to take responsibility for his violent actions.

A Better Man offers a fresh and nuanced look at the healing and revelation that can happen for everyone involved when men take responsibility for their abuse. It also empowers audience members to play new roles in challenging domestic violence, whether it's in their own relationships or as part of a broader movement for social change."

Urgent Search for National Researchers

The network is currently considering bidding for an opportunity with the European Institute for Gender Equality (EIGE) concerning risk assessment and police management of intimate partner violence. We are looking for national researchers in all 28 EU Member States (deadline 28 March).

The job involves desk research and interviews. We are contacting you to inquire whether you have a proposal for somebody who would be interested and fulfills the requirements for the role of national researcher for your country for this opportunity.

The main tasks for the national researchers include:

- conducting desk research on existing policy measures, legal provisions and police practices on risk assessment, protection measures and risk management of intimate partner violence;
- identifying relevant stakeholders and conducting 3-5 interviews with these selected relevant stakeholders.

We are still working on the methodology, but we expect that the work will need 10-12 working days.

If you are interested in the position or have a proposal for the position, please contact ralf.puchert@work-with-perpetrators.eu.
