WWP EN ANNUAL WORKSHOP 2018

Journey to Accountability: Practice and Theory

The 2018 WWP EN Annual Workshop will take place October 3-5 in Prague, Czech Republic and is being organised by the local Diaconia. Working together towards responsible perpetrator programmes has always been WWP EN's aim and this workshop will enable participants to engage with the practice and theory of accountability in-depth.

WWP EN Study Visit 2018

We are already excited for next year!

On April 11-13, a small group of WWP EN members met up in Graz, Austria to exchange practical knowledge and learn more about the local implementation of Austrian perpetrator work.

Read about all the activities and the information discussed during the 2018 Study Visit hosted by WWP EN member Association for Men's and Gender Issues \(AMGI\) by following the link below!

We wanted to know more!

During the WWP EN Study Visit in Graz, we learned that the women's shelter in Graz and Verein NEUSTART recently started a pilot project - working with women who show aggression towards their children while staying at the women's shelter.

We decided to interview them and find out more about the new training.

Webinar News

For all those who missed our last webinar, the recording is online and for those feeling uncertain about webinar technology, we uploaded some help.

Anna Zobnina (European Network of Migrant Women) held an introductory webinar on Male Violence against Women and Girls within and by migrant, refugee and ethnic minorities groups in Europe.

New Staff Members

The last three months have been very good to the WWP EN Team!

Antonia Montanus

Antonia is our new Membership and Reporting Officer and many of you have already been in touch with her.

Besides making the world a better place for women and children, she enjoys dog sitting, adventures outdoors and travelling.

Jeannette Bongé

Jeannette recently started supporting Dietlind in administration and finances. Her greatest concern is that children grow up healthy, educated and without violence in their lives. Walks outside with her two dogs brightens up any day for her.

Beverly Mtui

Beverly is our new intern and is working with Anna until October. One of her main fields of interest is combatting trafficking in women. Additionally to her internship, Beverly currently volunteers for the Viennese NGO FOOTPRINT that offers social and legal counseling and language courses to survivors of trafficking.

Dissemination Partnership

WWP EN is a dissemination partner for the DIS.CO Project!

DIS.CO Project

The DIS.CO Project is an Erasmus+ project working on developing long distance support services for women.

Find out more here and sign up to their newsletter so you don't miss any developments!

Online Resources, Events & Calls for Papers

Keep up to date with the community and available resources.

Online Resources

Different new resources have been uploaded to the WWP EN website.

Check out our Good Practice Report on working with women's support services or Marianne Hester's paper on Gender in perpetrator work.

Additionally, there is a new Promundo report and a NORDPLUS ADULT project published a handbook and training manual. Find everything, here.

CfPs and Events

There are many interesting conferences and other events coming up.

And for those of you seeking to present their projects and research papers, we gathered diverse calls for papers throughout Europe.
